'Let Your Light Shine' Matthew 5.16

News from the heart of our school

This week's news....

Dear Year 6 Students,

It has got to the time when we would like to find out how far you've come and what you've learnt. Although the SATs tests that you will be doing next week can seem scary, they are not. They are designed so that you show the rest of the world what you know and what you've learnt. Your teachers and I don't see them before we open them with you next week.

You'll be great and you'll do great.

All the practice that you have been doing in your lessons, the extra help your teachers have given you, the extra revising you have been doing will benefit you next week. You are a clever bunch!

Remember that these tests are a moment in time, they do not test what makes you special- that some of you can speak two languages, that some are exceptional artists, that some are brilliant at sport, or playing a musical instrument or drama, or singing. They do not test how kind you are and how you support others. "Your Lights Shine" in so many ways and you should be so proud.

This is a good luck letter (not that you need luck, you are ready!) Next week you will sit a small test every day. You will not spend all day doing SATs work, the latest you will finish is 11 and then I know that your teachers have got some great activities planned for you.

- ×Don't panic
- ×Don't stress
- ×Don't worry

- ✓Do think about what your teachers have told you
- ✓Do get lots of sleep and rest especially on Monday
- ✓Do remember a drink and a snack each day
- ✓Do the best you can (no-one can ask any more)
- ✓Be positive and give everything a go!

So, make sure you are here in school nice and early every day. Try not to be poorly and remember to be positive and smile. Tests are not the most important thing in the world; they will not change the course of your life, just concentrate and do your best. Whatever you end up doing with your brilliant lives, this week is just a very small part, so don't worry.

"Believe in yourself. You are braver than you think, more talented than you know, and capable of more than you imagine."

— Roy T. Bennett, The Light in the Heart

On-line safety

Online safety is everyone's responsibility. Our children have more and easier access to the internet. They need guidance and support as the on-line world can be a dangerous place-if our children are not monitored and supported.

Our trust safeguarding lead Sam Parish is really proactive across our trust schools delivering fantastic online safety for all adults working with children. As part of our staff training we have shared this with all staff. Parents-this could be of interest to you too:
