'Let Your Light Shine' Matthew 5.16

News from the heart of our school

This week's news....

Firstly, a big thank you from me for making me feel so welcome-this was my first "proper" week at St Peter's and I have been blown away by the super supportive staff and the fantastic young people in our care. It feels like a very special place to be! Thank you for your smiles and your hellos!

It has been a busy week already. As you can see from some of the pictures, the students are back with a bang and learning is full on. I delivered my first Act of Worship on Monday morning (scary! I nearly forgot our singing!), we introduced our new school value of COMPASSION, we had a visit on Tuesday from - Chris Rattenbury-a Paralympian athlete- told us all about the charity Wheelpower. The charity helps wheelchair users from the age of 4, take part in sports across the UK. Chris shared with the children his journey into wheelchair sport, and some of the many barriers faced by wheelchair users today. It was amazing to learn how sports have been adapted, and specialist wheelchairs have been designed for each of the sports. Chris also shared with us the history of the Paralympic Games, and many were amazed to learn that it started so close to home.

A big thank you for those of you who have donated books for our library! Reading is our superpower and we love to have as many books available to share with our young adventurers. Thank you for your book donations-if you have any further donations we can always use preloved books in school and we can share books for younger learners with our sister school Park Infant School. If you have books to donate and they are in good condition-please bring them in!

The sun is beginning to come out and the days are getting longer. The staff are planning some fabulous opportunities for the summer term, and we are very much looking forward to spending some quality learning time with your children! Bring on the sun and let your light shine!

There are some key dates for your diaries next week-so please have a look at the next week dates and remind your children! Photos on Monday! Football challenge fundraiser on Wednesday, Town Assembly Thursday, and Celebration Assembly on Friday!

See you at the gate,
Mark Currell
Executive Principal
